

Insurance.

Buckeye Mutual Insurance Co.
FIRE AND MARINE.
CAPITAL AND ASSETS $100,000
NO SCRIP DIVIDENDS
Profits Divided in Cash Among Stock and Policy Holders.

Takes Marine insurance of all kinds. Fire risks on buildings, merchandise, furniture, vessels in Port, and the better class of stock generally.

D. J. POTTER,
Wm. Hart, C. C. Chapman, Jr., A. P. Bellomy,
J. D. Hinman, O. M. Over, F. W. Peleg,
H. Garrison, A. J. Brown, G. C. Chapman, Jr.,
O. H. Hinman's Exchange, Post of Superior street,
Cleveland, Ohio.

WILLIAM HART, President
L. D. Hinman, Secretary
J. H. STOPPELMAN, Agent at Dayton.

Aetna Life Insurance Company

OF HARTFORD, CONNECTICUT

EVERY MAN SHOULD INSURE HIS LIFE.

THE Aetna grants policies FOR LIFE, for a term of years. Endowment policies and children's Endowment. Also, Non Participating Policies, which are paid up in full after ten years.

Five thousand dollars paid out two hours in this city within last year.

Among all the contrivances of men to protect the family circle from want, none can be found more simple or inexpensive, than Life Insurance. It is the prop which the dying husband leaves to his wife.

SUPPORT THE WIFE OF HIS BOSOM

BY PAYING IN ADVANCE

It is the unseen hand of the provident father, reaching forth from the grave, and still nourishing his offspring, and keeping together the family. By it, the faithful son

PROTECTS HIS AGED PARENTS

BY PAYING IN ADVANCE

Even where he has passed them into eternity, by it the honest laborer still has enabling means whereby he can be most generous. In a moral and worldly sense, it is one great weapon by which to rob death of his sting.

Let any husband, father, son, or kinsman, "If I was to die to-night, would those who are dear to me have

BE SAFE FROM THE PANGS OF WANT!

would these children here be a burden? Some, and the greater number, would be independent of the cold charities of the world. Would this aged and feeble parent be provided for? Would my estate pay my debts? Would there be no sacrifice of property by force of nature or an admiring wife? The wife, who is the credit of her husband, who is the market tends downward, and fair prices cannot be realized? How few can answer these questions to their satisfaction. They fail to ask them, and shrink from the belief that they have a long way to go. This is both foolish and ungrateful. The idea that

That he may grapple with its woes now, that he may study his duty and palliate its threatening. The means of palliation are at hand, of easy access to all.

LOOKS THE DANGER IN THE FACE

With a bold and fearless heart, and with a smile on his lips, he says, "I am safe."

LIFE INSURANCE!

Young men just starting in business, whose chief capital is their energy and integrity, should insure their lives in the amount of half their liabilities. Such an act of disinterested honesty often proves to their creditors, who are ignorant of their conditions in them, that they are not so anxious to leave their fast friends exposed to any sudden contingency; and the

ANNUAL PREMIUM

Might fairly be regarded as the tribute which an upright heart pays at the shrines of Justice.

JOHN H. STOPPELMAN,
Agent for Dayton and vicinity.

Dress and Cloak Making.

FASHIONABLE DRESS & CLOAK MAKING

Mrs. ANNA WILSON, Fashionable Dress and Cloak Maker, located in the rear of her elegant establishment, over McDonald's store, third story of the Second Avenue, and will furnish dress and cloak trimmings if desired.

D. J. POTTER,
Wm. Hart, C. C. Chapman, Jr., A. P. Bellomy,
J. D. Hinman, O. M. Over, F. W. Peleg,
H. Garrison, A. J. Brown, G. C. Chapman, Jr.,
O. H. Hinman's Exchange, Post of Superior street,
Cleveland, Ohio.

WILLIAM HART, President
L. D. Hinman, Secretary
J. H. STOPPELMAN, Agent at Dayton.

Aetna Life Insurance Company

OF HARTFORD, CONNECTICUT

EVERY MAN SHOULD INSURE HIS LIFE.

THE Aetna grants policies FOR LIFE, for a term of years. Endowment policies and children's Endowment. Also, Non Participating Policies, which are paid up in full after ten years.

Five thousand dollars paid out two hours in this city within last year.

Among all the contrivances of men to protect the family circle from want, none can be found more simple or inexpensive, than Life Insurance. It is the prop which the dying husband leaves to his wife.

Let any husband, father, son, or kinsman, "If I was to die to-night, would those who are dear to me have

BE SAFE FROM THE PANGS OF WANT!

would these children here be a burden? Some, and the greater number, would be independent of the cold charities of the world. Would this aged and feeble parent be provided for? Would my estate pay my debts? Would there be no sacrifice of property by force of nature or an admiring wife? The wife, who is the credit of her husband, who is the market tends downward, and fair prices cannot be realized? How few can answer these questions to their satisfaction. They fail to ask them, and shrink from the belief that they have a long way to go. This is both foolish and ungrateful. The idea that

That he may grapple with its woes now, that he may study his duty and palliate its threatening. The means of palliation are at hand, of easy access to all.

LOOKS THE DANGER IN THE FACE

With a bold and fearless heart, and with a smile on his lips, he says, "I am safe."

LIFE INSURANCE!

Young men just starting in business, whose chief capital is their energy and integrity, should insure their lives in the amount of half their liabilities. Such an act of disinterested honesty often proves to their creditors, who are ignorant of their conditions in them, that they are not so anxious to leave their fast friends exposed to any sudden contingency; and the

ANNUAL PREMIUM

Might fairly be regarded as the tribute which an upright heart pays at the shrines of Justice.

JOHN H. STOPPELMAN,
Agent for Dayton and vicinity.

Aetna Life Insurance Company

OF HARTFORD, CONNECTICUT

EVERY MAN SHOULD INSURE HIS LIFE.

THE Aetna grants policies FOR LIFE, for a term of years. Endowment policies and children's Endowment. Also, Non Participating Policies, which are paid up in full after ten years.

Five thousand dollars paid out two hours in this city within last year.

Among all the contrivances of men to protect the family circle from want, none can be found more simple or inexpensive, than Life Insurance. It is the prop which the dying husband leaves to his wife.

Let any husband, father, son, or kinsman, "If I was to die to-night, would those who are dear to me have

BE SAFE FROM THE PANGS OF WANT!

would these children here be a burden? Some, and the greater number, would be independent of the cold charities of the world. Would this aged and feeble parent be provided for? Would my estate pay my debts? Would there be no sacrifice of property by force of nature or an admiring wife? The wife, who is the credit of her husband, who is the market tends downward, and fair prices cannot be realized? How few can answer these questions to their satisfaction. They fail to ask them, and shrink from the belief that they have a long way to go. This is both foolish and ungrateful. The idea that

That he may grapple with its woes now, that he may study his duty and palliate its threatening. The means of palliation are at hand, of easy access to all.

LOOKS THE DANGER IN THE FACE

With a bold and fearless heart, and with a smile on his lips, he says, "I am safe."

LIFE INSURANCE!

Young men just starting in business, whose chief capital is their energy and integrity, should insure their lives in the amount of half their liabilities. Such an act of disinterested honesty often proves to their creditors, who are ignorant of their conditions in them, that they are not so anxious to leave their fast friends exposed to any sudden contingency; and the

ANNUAL PREMIUM

Might fairly be regarded as the tribute which an upright heart pays at the shrines of Justice.

JOHN H. STOPPELMAN,
Agent for Dayton and vicinity.

Aetna Life Insurance Company

OF HARTFORD, CONNECTICUT

EVERY MAN SHOULD INSURE HIS LIFE.

THE Aetna grants policies FOR LIFE, for a term of years. Endowment policies and children's Endowment. Also, Non Participating Policies, which are paid up in full after ten years.

Five thousand dollars paid out two hours in this city within last year.

Among all the contrivances of men to protect the family circle from want, none can be found more simple or inexpensive, than Life Insurance. It is the prop which the dying husband leaves to his wife.

Let any husband, father, son, or kinsman, "If I was to die to-night, would those who are dear to me have

BE SAFE FROM THE PANGS OF WANT!

would these children here be a burden? Some, and the greater number, would be independent of the cold charities of the world. Would this aged and feeble parent be provided for? Would my estate pay my debts? Would there be no sacrifice of property by force of nature or an admiring wife? The wife, who is the credit of her husband, who is the market tends downward, and fair prices cannot be realized? How few can answer these questions to their satisfaction. They fail to ask them, and shrink from the belief that they have a long way to go. This is both foolish and ungrateful. The idea that

That he may grapple with its woes now, that he may study his duty and palliate its threatening. The means of palliation are at hand, of easy access to all.

LOOKS THE DANGER IN THE FACE

With a bold and fearless heart, and with a smile on his lips, he says, "I am safe."

LIFE INSURANCE!

Young men just starting in business, whose chief capital is their energy and integrity, should insure their lives in the amount of half their liabilities. Such an act of disinterested honesty often proves to their creditors, who are ignorant of their conditions in them, that they are not so anxious to leave their fast friends exposed to any sudden contingency; and the

ANNUAL PREMIUM

Might fairly be regarded as the tribute which an upright heart pays at the shrines of Justice.

JOHN H. STOPPELMAN,
Agent for Dayton and vicinity.

Aetna Life Insurance Company

OF HARTFORD, CONNECTICUT

EVERY MAN SHOULD INSURE HIS LIFE.

THE Aetna grants policies FOR LIFE, for a term of years. Endowment policies and children's Endowment. Also, Non Participating Policies, which are paid up in full after ten years.

Five thousand dollars paid out two hours in this city within last year.

Among all the contrivances of men to protect the family circle from want, none can be found more simple or inexpensive, than Life Insurance. It is the prop which the dying husband leaves to his wife.

Let any husband, father, son, or kinsman, "If I was to die to-night, would those who are dear to me have

BE SAFE FROM THE PANGS OF WANT!

would these children here be a burden? Some, and the greater number, would be independent of the cold charities of the world. Would this aged and feeble parent be provided for? Would my estate pay my debts? Would there be no sacrifice of property by force of nature or an admiring wife? The wife, who is the credit of her husband, who is the market tends downward, and fair prices cannot be realized? How few can answer these questions to their satisfaction. They fail to ask them, and shrink from the belief that they have a long way to go. This is both foolish and ungrateful. The idea that

That he may grapple with its woes now, that he may study his duty and palliate its threatening. The means of palliation are at hand, of easy access to all.

LOOKS THE DANGER IN THE FACE

With a bold and fearless heart, and with a smile on his lips, he says, "I am safe."

LIFE INSURANCE!

Young men just starting in business, whose chief capital is their energy and integrity, should insure their lives in the amount of half their liabilities. Such an act of disinterested honesty often proves to their creditors, who are ignorant of their conditions in them, that they are not so anxious to leave their fast friends exposed to any sudden contingency; and the

ANNUAL PREMIUM

Might fairly be regarded as the tribute which an upright heart pays at the shrines of Justice.

JOHN H. STOPPELMAN,
Agent for Dayton and vicinity.

Aetna Life Insurance Company

OF HARTFORD, CONNECTICUT

EVERY MAN SHOULD INSURE HIS LIFE.

THE Aetna grants policies FOR LIFE, for a term of years. Endowment policies and children's Endowment. Also, Non Participating Policies, which are paid up in full after ten years.

Five thousand dollars paid out two hours in this city within last year.

Among all the contrivances of men to protect the family circle from want, none can be found more simple or inexpensive, than Life Insurance. It is the prop which the dying husband leaves to his wife.

Let any husband, father, son, or kinsman, "If I was to die to-night, would those who are dear to me have

BE SAFE FROM THE PANGS OF WANT!

would these children here be a burden? Some, and the greater number, would be independent of the cold charities of the world. Would this aged and feeble parent be provided for? Would my estate pay my debts? Would there be no sacrifice of property by force of nature or an admiring wife? The wife, who is the credit of her husband, who is the market tends downward, and fair prices cannot be realized? How few can answer these questions to their satisfaction. They fail to ask them, and shrink from the belief that they have a long way to go. This is both foolish and ungrateful. The idea that

That he may grapple with its woes now, that he may study his duty and palliate its threatening. The means of palliation are at hand, of easy access to all.

LOOKS THE DANGER IN THE FACE

With a bold and fearless heart, and with a smile on his lips, he says, "I am safe."

LIFE INSURANCE!

Young men just starting in business, whose chief capital is their energy and integrity, should insure their lives in the amount of half their liabilities. Such an act of disinterested honesty often proves to their creditors, who are ignorant of their conditions in them, that they are not so anxious to leave their fast friends exposed to any sudden contingency; and the

ANNUAL PREMIUM

Might fairly be regarded as the tribute which an upright heart pays at the shrines of Justice.

JOHN H. STOPPELMAN,
Agent for Dayton and vicinity.

Aetna Life Insurance Company

OF HARTFORD, CONNECTICUT

EVERY MAN SHOULD INSURE HIS LIFE.

THE Aetna grants policies FOR LIFE, for a term of years. Endowment policies and children's Endowment. Also, Non Participating Policies, which are paid up in full after ten years.

Five thousand dollars paid out two hours in this city within last year.

Among all the contrivances of men to protect the family circle from want, none can be found more simple or inexpensive, than Life Insurance. It is the prop which the dying husband leaves to his wife.

Let any husband, father, son, or kinsman, "If I was to die to-night, would those who are dear to me have

BE SAFE FROM THE PANGS OF WANT!

would